KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

➢ Professor Roy T. Stuckey
  Webster Distinguished Professor Emeritus of Clinical Legal Education, University of South Carolina School of Law

Prof. Stuckey continues to write and speak, as a nationally and internationally recognized expert, about education for the practice of law. In addition to family law, his books and numerous articles explore issues regarding professionalism and professional skills and values. Throughout his career, Professor Stuckey has actively served a variety of professional organizations. He is a member of the Board of Editors of the International Journal of Clinical Legal Education (England). In 2006, he provided expert assistance to ABA/CEELI in the development of the Legal Education Reform Index, a tool for evaluating the quality of legal education in Central Europe and Eurasia. That same year, he was the keynote speaker at conferences on legal education in Japan and England. In addition, he has served on approximately 15 accreditation site inspection teams for the American Bar Association, and, from 2004-07, he was a member of the University’s Tenure and Promotion Committee. From 2001-2007, Professor Stuckey chaired the Steering Committee for the Best Practices Project of the Clinical Legal Education Association. This resulted in the 2007 publication of Roy Stuckey et al., Best Practices for Legal Education.
A copy of the book can be obtained from Professor Stuckey at stuckeyroy@gmail.com. The book can be downloaded from this website where you can also find additional information on Prof. Stuckey and his work. A blog for the book is available at bestpracticeslegaled.albanylawblogs.org/.
